

Learning activities for improving the 21st century skills

GOOD PRACTICES OF THE PRO-SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR CLUB
WITHIN SÚKROMNÁ STREDNÁ ODBORNÁ ŠKOLA PRO SCHOLARIS

MGR. MATÚŠ DOBEŠ

25.02.2019

Topic

Designing curricular and extracurricular (learning) activities for improving the 21st century skills.

Good practices of the Pro-Social Behaviour Club within SSOŠ Pro scholaris

Name for the social-inclusion project:

- Pro scholaris Video Production

Duration of the project:

- since October 2018 – still realizing

Goal of the social-inclusion project

To develop the:

- ICT and social skills of the participants
- co-operation among the students
- mutual bonds and succession of the Erasmus+ projects

Target groups

- students of the school
- internet visitors

Participants

- Students of the school from the ISS field of study

Project design / description – PBL structure

- ISS students were asked to help with the project activities
- They identified the options of what to do / what to help with
- Students started to collect the video material
- Editing, cutting and finalization of the videos
- Tight collaboration with the mobility participants
- Supervision by the expert teachers

Project outcomes

Co-operation with the mobility participants

Strengthening the students' ICT skills – production of digital video

Higher self-esteem of the participating students

Sharing the knowledge via Erasmus+ Day by presenting project activities

Disseminating the experiences by student and teacher presentations

Presenting the student talents and skills

- digital graphic design, video edit, marketing skills

Development of empathy

Development of voluntarism

Dissemination

Project outcomes were posted on:

- the WISH project FB profile
- the school FB profile
- the school website
- YouTube channel
- School digital archives

Pictures

Link to the video.

Thank you for your attention

